

The German Young Geomorphologists

invite all interested young researchers in geomorphology and related fields to join the 11th international Young Geomorphologists' workshop at Ammersee, Germany (~1 hour from Munich)

19th - 21st May 2017

The meeting will provide an ideal opportunity to present your current work, to discuss problems and receive constructive feedback! We want to highlight our interest in solving problems that occur during the empirical or writing period of your research.

Preliminary selection of events:

- your BSc/MSc and PhD studies: oral or poster presentation and extensive discussions
- Field trip to geomorphological highlights of the surrounding area guided by Prof. Dr. Michael Krautblatter (TU Munich)
- a keynote lecture by a well-known researcher on an exiting topic in geomorphology

The workshop fee will be ~ 50 € for full board!!! Please send the registration form to jgtreffen@googlemail.com until Sunday, 2nd of April!!!

Thus, save the date! Please also feel free to register with our mailing list (email to j.meister@fu-berlin.de) to receive updates on the meeting in May and information on additional activities of the Young Geomorphologists!

Organization team:

Jan Blöthe (Bonn)
Andrea Junge (Gießen)
Christoph Kappler (Potsdam)
Julia Meister (Berlin)
Karoline Messenzehl (Bonn)
Veit Nottebaum (Aachen)
Steffen Pötsch (Greifswald)
Anna Schoch (Bonn)
Philipp Schulte (Aachen)

Please visit our webpage:
[http://www.inst.uni-giessen.de/
akgeom/?page_id=838](http://www.inst.uni-giessen.de/akgeom/?page_id=838)

Young Geomorphologists meeting in Brandenburg (May 2016)